NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES AND POLICIES, EFFECTIVE 1/1/2011

AS REQUIRED BY FEDERAL LEGISLATION, THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW HEALTHCARE INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN OBTAIN ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

This notice applies to all of the paper and electronic records of your care maintained by Lisa J. Trigg, PhD, ARNP, whether created by myself, my personnel or records acquired from outside resources such as other clinicians involved in your care and laboratory reports.

WAYS THE PRACTICE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE YOUR INFORMATION

The following categories describe ways that I use and share your confidential information. Confidential information includes Protected Health Information (PHI) (information that could be used to identify you). Not every use or disclosure in a category is listed. However, all of the ways I am permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the following categories.

- DISCLOSURES WHICH REQUIRE AUTHORIZATION

Psychotherapy notes are handled separately under HIPAA and have additional protections. Specifically, the regulations state that in most instances a practice must obtain an authorization for any use or disclosure of psychotherapy notes. No authorization is needed to carry out treatment, payment, or healthcare operations and the uses listed in routine situations. All other circumstances require a valid authorization from you for use and disclosure.

Confidential information may be released for payment and healthcare operations only to health insurance plans and their agents and business associates of the practice. The definition of health insurance plan does not include life insurance companies, automobile insurance companies, or workers' compensation carriers. These are not covered under HIPAA. Therefore, if you would like information submitted to one of these companies, an authorization will be required, unless I am otherwise required by state or federal law.

- ROUTINE SITUATIONS

- a. For Treatment I may use information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. Treatment is when I provide, coordinate, or manage your healthcare and other services related to your healthcare. An example of treatment is when I consult with another healthcare provider, such as your primary care physician.
- b. For Payment I may use and disclose information about you so that the treatment and services you receive at the practice may be billed and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company, or a third party (including a collection agency if necessary). For example, I may give your health insurance plan information about services you received at the practice so your health insurance plan will pay my practice or reimburse you for the services. I may also tell your health insurance plan about a treatment you are going to receive in order to obtain prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.
- c. For Healthcare Operations I may use and share information about you for administrative functions necessary to run my practice and promote quality care. I may share information with business associates who provide services necessary to run my practice, such as transcription companies or billing services. I will contractually bind these third parties to protect your information as I would. Also, I may permit your health insurance plan or other providers to review records that contain information about you to assist them in improving the quality of service provided to you.

- d. Communicating with You and Others Involved in Your Care My practice may contact you to provide appointment reminders or information about treatment alternatives or other health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you. In certain situations, I may share information about you with a friend or family member who is involved in your care or payment for your care unless you have requested that such disclosures not occur and I have agreed. Information disclosed will be directly relevant to such person's involvement with your care or payment related to your care. Whenever possible, this person will be identified by you. However, in emergencies or other situations in which you are unable to indicate your preference, I may need to share information about you with other individuals or organizations to coordinate your care or notify your family.

• SPECIAL SITUATIONS

- As Required By Law: I will disclose information about you when required to do so by federal, state or local law. For example, I may release information about you in response to a valid court subpoena.
- Health Oversight Activities: I may disclose information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities include, for example: audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the healthcare system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.
- For Judicial or Administrative Proceedings: If you are involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information about the professional services that you have received within my practice and the records thereof, such information may be privileged under state law, and I will not release information without the written authorization of you or your legal representative, or in instance of issuance. This may also be the case in the instance of a court subpoena requiring provision of such information of which you have been properly notified and in response to which you have not opposed the court subpoena within the legally specified format and timeframe, or in the instance of the issuance of a court order compelling me to provide Protected Health Information (PHI). This privilege does not apply when you are being evaluated for a third party or where the evaluation is court-ordered. You will be informed in advance if this is the case.

To Avert Serious Threat to Health or Safety: I may disclose your confidential mental health information to any person without authorization if I believe reasonably that disclosure will avoid or minimize imminent danger to your health or safety, or the health or safety of any other individual. These disclosures may be to law enforcement officials to respond to a violent crime or to protect the target of a violent crime. For example, threat of harming another individual may be reported to appropriate authorities.

5. Worker's Compensation: If you file a worker's compensation claim, with certain exceptions, I must make available, at any stage of the proceedings, all PHI information in our possession that is relevant to that particular injury in the opinion of the Washington Department of Labor and Industries, to your employer, your representative, and the Department of Labor and Industries upon request.
6. Public Health Risks: I may disclose information about you for public health activities. These activities generally include, but are not limited to, the following:
- a. To prevent or control disease, injury, or disability
 - b. To report child abuse or neglect
 - c. To report adult and domestic abuse
 - d. To report reactions to medications or problems with products
 - e. To notify people of recalls of products they may be using
 - f. To notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition

- g. To notify the appropriate government authority if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect, or domestic violence.
7. Law Enforcement: I may release information about you if asked to do so by a law enforcement official:
- a) In response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons, or similar process
 - b) To identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person
 - c) If you are suspected to be a victim of a crime, generally with your permission
 - d) About a death we believe may be the result of criminal conduct
 - e) About criminal conduct at the hospital
 - f) In emergency circumstances, to report a crime; the location of the crime or victims; or the identity, description or location of the person who committed the crime

YOUR RIGHTS AS A PATIENT

In addition to provisions by the practice to protect your confidential information, you are entitled to six (6) specific rights as a patient.

1. You have the right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures. You have the right to request a restriction or limitation on the use and sharing of information about you for treatment, payment, administrative functions, or with individuals involved in your care. To request restrictions, you must make your request in writing to me. In your request, you must tell me: (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit use, disclosure, or both; and (3) to whom you want it to apply. I am not required to agree to your request. If I agree, I will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you with emergency treatment.
2. You have the right to receive confidential communications. You have the right request that we communicate with you in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or at a post office box. To request confidential communications, you must make your request in writing to me. Your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted. I will not ask you the reason for your request. I will seek to accommodate all reasonable requests.
3. You have the right to inspect and obtain copies. You have the right to review and obtain copies of information that may be used to make decisions about your care. Usually, this includes medical and billing records, but does not include psychotherapy notes, information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a legal action or proceeding; and confidential information related to certain laboratory tests under Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendments (CLIA). To inspect and copy information that may be used to make decisions about you, you must submit your request to me in writing. You may be charged a fee for the costs of copying, mailing or other supplies associated with your request. In the following circumstances I may deny your request to inspect and copy information:
 - a) I have determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the access requested is reasonably likely to endanger the life or physical safety of you or another person
 - b) The information makes reference to another person (unless the other person is a healthcare provider) and I have determined, in the exercise of professional judgment that the access requested is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to the other person
 - c) The request for access is made by your representative and I have determined, in the exercise of professional judgment that the provision of access to your personal representative is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to you or another person. If you are denied access, you may request a review of the denial by another licensed medical practitioner. I will comply with the outcome of the review.
4. You have the right to amend confidential information. If you feel that the information I have about you is incorrect or incomplete, you may ask me to amend the information. You have the right to request an

I may deny your request for an amendment if it is not in writing or does not include a reason to support the request. In addition, I may deny your request if you ask me to amend information that:

STATEMENT OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

Our office is dedicated to protect the privacy rights of our patients and the confidential information entrusted to us. The commitment of each employee to ensure that your health information is never compromised is a principal concept of our practice. We may, from time to time, amend our privacy policies and practices, but will always inform you of any changes that might affect your rights.

• PROTECTING YOUR PERSONAL HEALTHCARE INFORMATION

We use and disclose the information we collect from you only as allowed by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act and the State of Washington. This includes issues relating to your treatment, payment, and our healthcare operations. Your personal health information will never be otherwise given to anyone, even family members, without your written consent. You, of course, may give written authorization for us to disclose your information to anyone you choose, for any purpose.

Our offices and electronic systems are secure from unauthorized access and our employees are trained to make certain that the confidentiality of your records is always protected. Our privacy policy and practices apply to all former, current and future patients, so you can be confident that your protected health information will never be improperly disclosed or released.

• COLLECTING PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

We will only request personal information needed to provide our standard of quality healthcare, implement payment activities, conduct normal health practice operations, and comply with the law. This may include your name, address, telephone numbers, social security number, employment data, medical history, health records, etc. While most of the information will be collected from you, we may obtain information from third parties if deemed necessary. Regardless of the source, your personal information will always be protected to the full extent of the law.

• DISCLOSURE OF YOUR PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

As stated above, we may disclose information as required by law. We are obligated to provide information to law enforcement and governmental officials under certain circumstances. We will not use your information for marketing purposes without your written consent. We may use and/or disclose your health information to communicate reminders about your appointments including voicemail messages, answering machines, and postcards.

• PATIENT RIGHTS

You have the right to request copies of your healthcare information, to request copies in a variety of formats, and to request a list of instances in which we, or our business associates, have disclosed your protected information for uses other than stated above. All such requests must be in writing. We may charge for your copies in an amount allowed by law. If you believe your rights have been violated, we urge you to notify us immediately. You can also notify the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

I thank you for being a patient at my office. Please let me know if you have any questions concerning your privacy rights and the protection of your personal health information.
